"The Saturday WESTMINSTER GAZETTE is about the most interesting miscellany of the day; in fact, there is more interesting matter in it than in half the monthly magazines, and it is far more pleasant to handle and read with its sea-green paper than the glazed wire-stitched magazine. We know one retired major who is a great patron of the monthly periodicals, but woe betide his butler if he puts any magazine on the library table without first drawing the cork—we mean cutting and drawing out the wire stitches with his champagne nippers. The Saturday WESTMINSTER is becoming one of the best advertising mediums of the day; it is one of the few things people take with them for week-ends, and one of the few papers which are not left in the train."—The Publishers' Circular.
